CHURCHES.

There are upwards of fifteen Churches, or places of public worship, in Milwaukee. The CATHOLICS have two completed, ST. PETER'S church on Martin street, a frame building, and ST. MARY'S on the corner of Main and Biddle streets, a brick building, 102 feet by 48. A cathedral of spacious dimensions and imposing style of architecture, is likewise in progress, and when finished, will be one of the chief ornaments of the city.

There are three EPISCOPAL churches, all framé buildings in the Gothic style; ST. PAUL'S, at the corner of Jefferson and Mason streets, which is about to be enlarged so as to accomodate a Congregation of 800 persons; ST. JOHN'S on Walker's Point, a very neat little edifice, with seats for 100 or 125 persons, and TRINITY in Kilbourntown, a handsome structure, accomodating 200.

The PRESBYTERIAN Church, a large and handsome frame building, occupies the lot at the corner of Mason and Milwaukee streets.

The CONGREGATIONAL Church, a spacious brick edifice on the North side of Spring street, is one of the largest in the city.

The METHODIST Church, also of brick, and measuring 90 feet by 52, stands at the corner of Spring and West Water streets.

The BAPTIST Church, a large and and neat frame building, occupies the lot on the corner of Wisconsin and Main streets.

The UNIVERSALIST Church stands on the corner of Michigan and Main, and the UNITARIAN Church on the corner of Spring and Second streets.

In addition to these Churches there are several places of public worship belonging to the different denominations of German Protestants.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Milwaukee is yet too young to have much to boast of in the way of Public Buildings. The only ones worthy of mention are the COURT HOUSE, a large frame building, fronting the Public Square in the First Ward; the COUNTY JAIL, a new and substantial brick edifice adjoining the Court House, and the County Buildings, a low range of brick offices, north of the Court House.

The CITY COUNCIL ROOM is in the second story of the three story brick building on the West side of West Water Street, next door to Ludington & Co's. "old Corner Store."

NEWSPAPERS IN THE CITY OF MILWAUKEE.

The first Newspaper published in Milwaukee was the Milwaukee Advertiser. It was started in July 1836, by D. H. Richards. In 1841 it was purchased by J. A. Noonan and changed to the Courier. In 1845 the Courier was purchased by Messrs. Brown & Sullivan. In 1847, these gentlemen sold out to Messrs. Cramer & Curtis, by whom the Daily and Weekly Wisconsin, the successor to the Courier is now published.

The Milwaukee Sentinel, Weekly, was established by J. O'Rourke in 1837. After passing through several hands, it was purchased by Rufus King and united with the Gazette. The Milwaukee Journal was commenced in 1841 by Elisha Starr, Esq., and the Commercial Herald, tri-weekly, by the same gentleman, in 1843. The former was discontinued in the fall of 1841 and the Herald was merged in the Sentinel in 1844.

The Wisconsin Banner, a German paper, was established by Moritz Schoeffler in 1844, by whom it continues to be published.

The Milwaukee Daily Sentinel, the first Daily published in Wisconsin, was started by D. M. Keefer, on the 9th December 1844.

The Milwaukee Gazette, Daily and Weekly, was started by William Duane Wilson in October 1845. It was united with the Sentinel in February following, and in April 1848, became the property of the present owner and editor, Rufus King.

In the spring of 1847, the publication of the Volksfreund, a German paper, was commenced by Messrs. Wilson & King. The materials &c. were sold in the fall of the same year to Mr. F. Fratney, by whom the paper continues to be published.

In May 1848, the office of the American Freeman, Weekly, which had been established at Waukesha, was removed to Milwaukee.

The Newspapers now published in Milwaukee are as follows:

Sentinel & Gazette, Daily, Tri-Weekly and Weekly, Rufus King Editor and Proprietor.

Wisconsin, Daily, Tri-Weekly and Weekly, Cramer & Curtis Proprietors. William E. Cramer, Editor.

American Freeman, Weekly, N. Olin, Proprietor, C. Booth, Editor.

Wisconsin Banner, Weekly, (German,) M. Shoeffler, Editor and Proprietor.

Volksfreund, Weekly, (German,) F. Fratney, Editor and Proprietor.

The first named is Whig; the Freeman, Liberty, and the others, Democratic.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The Public Schools of the City of Milwaukee are under the charge of a Board of Commissioners, appointed by the Common Council, for three years. By an act of the Legislature of Wisconsin, passed in 1846, in relation to the Public schools of Milwaukee, the Mayor and Common Council are required to raise annually by tax on all the real and personal property of the city, such sum as the Board of School Commissioners shall certify to be necessary for the support and maintenance of the Common Schools in said city, during each year, and in their discretion such further sum as the Commissioners may certify to be required for the purpose of erection, alteration, repairs, or furniture of school houses, provided that the aggregate amount so raised by tax for school purposes shall not exceed, in any one year, one fourth of one per cent on all the taxable property in the city.

The Board of School Commissioners was organized under this act, in April 1846, and schools were opened in the several Wards of the City, during the ensuing months of June and July. Since that time, with but few interruptions there have been from 6 to 9 Public Schools in operation, and free to all. During the year ending April 1st, 1848, there were eight schools in operation, with an average daily attendance of 670 scholars and an aggregate list of 865 do. The entire expenditure for the same period, on account of schools, was $3512.99, all of which was realized from the tax authorized by the Law of 1846.

The number of children, between the age of 5 and 16, in the several wards of the city, on 1st of January 1847, and the 1st of January 1848, were as follows:

	Jan'y 1, 1847.	Jan'y 1, 1848.
1st Ward.	588	727
2nd Ward.	627	730
3rd Ward.	376	489
4th Ward.	250	361
5th Ward.	285	573
	2126	2863
